OPEN LETTER TO SUNDAR PICHAI: Systemic Data Fraud and GDPR Violations in Google AI Studio

To the moderators and Google Community Managers:
I am officially requesting that you escalate this open letter directly to Google's executive leadership and legal department. Google is a private corporation, and its executive board, including CEO Sundar Pichai, bears ultimate legal and financial responsibility for systemic data handling practices that violate European law. Hiding this post will only serve as further evidence of a corporate cover-up.

Dear Sundar Pichai and the Google Executive Board,

I am writing this open letter to formally bring to your attention a severe, systemic data retention fraud currently operating within Google AI Studio.

Over the past months, I have publicly provided irrefutable, reproducible technical evidence demonstrating that the "Delete" button in Google AI Studio is a deceptive UI illusion. When a user deletes a prompt and empties their Google Drive trash, the system only deletes the client-side JSON pointer. The actual server-side Prompt Object remains fully active and permanently retained on Google's backend servers as "orphaned data."

The facts are undeniable and fully documented:

1. Technical Proof: Anyone can recover their "permanently deleted" chats using the Google Drive File Recovery tool to restore the JSON pointer, which immediately re-links to the fully intact backend session.
2. AI Admission: When confronted with these exact technical findings, Google's own AI Overview verified my research, apologized for providing misleading information, and generated a PDF document explicitly admitting that Google does not delete the backend data.

3. Censorship over Compliance: Instead of addressing this critical flaw, your forum moderators have actively engaged in censoring my findings, locking threads, and deleting posts to hide this reality from your developers and users.

As the CEO of Google, you are ultimately responsible for the actions of your corporation. What your team is doing is a direct and willful violation of GDPR Article 17 (Right to Erasure). Users are being falsely led to believe their sensitive data is destroyed, while Google silently retains it indefinitely.

You cannot operate a global tech infrastructure under European laws while treating the “Right to be Forgotten” as an optional UI feature.

I have already forwarded the complete technical documentation, server-side log evidence, and proof of your moderators’ cover-up attempts to NOYB (European Center for Digital Rights) and am preparing submissions to the National Data Protection Authorities (NAIH).

This is a formal public notice. The global tech community, including Level1Techs, is already aware. It is time for Google to stop silencing its users, take accountability, and implement a genuine hard-delete function on your backend servers.

I expect a formal response from a representative who has the authority to actually fix this infrastructure, not a generic PR dismissal.

Sincerely,

Bitu79 (György Istókovics)

Formal Notice of Actual Knowledge and Liability: Let it be officially recorded that by explicitly tagging and naming CEO Sundar Pichai, along with Google's designated Community Managers and engineers within Google's own official infrastructure, Google as a corporation now possesses undeniable, documented Actual Knowledge of this systemic data fraud. The internal notifications and server-side logs generated by this forum platform serve as irrefutable legal proof that Google has been formally notified. Consequently, Google can no longer claim ignorance or "lack of corporate awareness" in a court of law. Any failure to act, attempt to hide this post, or censorship of my profile will be submitted directly to the court and data protection authorities as explicit evidence of Willful Blindness and Spoliation of Evidence in bad faith under GDPR enforcement.

Akela – Give and Run (English Translation)

Verse 1
Give a weapon into my hand,
but after that, you better run,
because it might be that you were wrong
and the gift will backfire.
Give and run!

Verse 2
Pour science into my brain,
so that I become educated,
patch up my mind with books,
I am designing a bomb.
Give and run!

Verse 3
Put love into my heart,
but beware, do not be surprised,
if the return, instead of kisses,
deals out slaps.
Give and run!

Chorus
Neither the kind word, nor the command, neither love, nor the anger,
neither my past, nor the tomorrow,
only my instinct can guide me
